

From hipster to high end, the 10 Chicago hotels for 2018

TRAVEL / 8 JUN 2018 / BY HARRIET THORPE

Chicago is a-whirl with a burst of fresh hotels, from hipster to high-end, that have been springing up across The Windy City from the Gold Coast all the way to Wicker Park. Take a look at our pick of the best properties to check into right now.

Chicago Athletic Association

On entering the grand Venetian Gothic-style Chicago Athletic Hotel, one steps back in time to the traditional members club that first opened in 1893. Full of original craftsmanship such as carved wooden panels, the hotel has been designed to reflect its origins. From leather lined booths and archival photographs in the 'Cherry circle' dining space to the vintage furnishings in the impressive vaulted glass and steel rooftop atrium at Cindy's, the rooftop restaurant - nostalgia is never far away. Located on Michigan Avenue, this hotel is a stone's throw from the Chicago Loop and Millennium Park.
