

Chefs are being inspired by people with special needs to make a big local impact

Doors Open Dishes is a Chicago-based program that pairs chefs with individuals with special needs to create recipes that help others.

