Black Friday-Cyber Monday hotel deals let travelers buy now, stay in 2019. Here are 24 sales, some on right now

November 22, 2018
Mary Forgione

Black Friday and Cyber Monday deals have blurred together, making the entire post-Thanksgiving weekend an opportunity for travelers to save on their 2019 vacations.

If you don't find your favorite hotel or resort on this list, search online. Every major travel vendor offers some kind of Black Friday-Cyber Monday savings.

Here's what you need to know before you jump on these and any other limited-time travel offers.

- Deals are based on availability; there's no guarantee you'll get a room at your desired hotel.
- Check the hour and minute when the deal ends. Don't forget to convert other time zones to Pacific time.
- You pay in full up front, and room deals often are nonrefundable and nonchangeable.
- Blackout dates may apply.
- Read the fine print and look for other rules and disclaimers, which would be listed on the site where you are booking the room.
